YRE Awards

This year, seven students participated in the Young Reporters for the Environment, out of which six won or got commended. The final award-giving ceremony will be held at the Junior College during the first week of June where all participating schools will be attending.

Best entries and first prizes will now compete at international level. Wishing our teams the best possible outcome. Results will be out in the first week of June.

Best Entries

Elise Muscat (article) – The folly of developing new vehicle fuel stations

Maria Therese Pavia and Aiden Gauci (video) – Choose fairly: buy fair trade

1st Litterless

Jordan Magri (article) – Organic waste collection from restaurants in Malta

Code B wins Company of the Year Award

The journey of our Junior Achievement Young Enterprise teams that started in October 2018, partially came to a close with the Finals on 4 May. We are proud of all of our nine teams who completed in this year's Company Program and we are happy to announce that Code B have won the Company of the Year Award. They will be representing Malta in the European Company of the Year Competition which will be held in Lille, France. A big well done also goes to AIDA who won the EFQ Quality in Excellence Award.

This summer we will have three students from this year's company program who have been chosen for an internship with HSBC after a call for applications. Joining them will be three other students who went through the same internship experience last summer and were offered the experience again this summer.

A big thank you goes to all the members of staff who supported our students throughout this experience. We look forward to engage more students in this experience during the next scholastic year.

Clothes Deposit Box for Recycling

JC staff and students are encouraged to continue making use of the clothes deposit box for recycling. This is located in Car Park 1. Access to it is from the basement door (opposite the lift). Clothes, bags, hats, bedsheets, soft toys and belts are all accepted.

When the Clothes Deposit Box is full, please inform the Administration.

JC Library Extended Hours

During the month of May, the JC Library will be open every Tuesday and Thursday until 19:00. Students can make use of all library services such as borrowing books, using computer stations and WiFi. We hope to see many of you there!
