Biodiversity Corner

A feature dedicated to Biodiversity at Junior College will appear from time to time on the newsletter to inform staff and students about local species, their legal status and ecological importance.

The Sandarac Gum Tree.
Għargħar/ Tetraclinis articulata

Two specimens of the National Tree of Malta can be found on College Campus - the oldest one was planted in 1998 together with a group of Environmental Science students. The SGT is an evergreen coniferous tree, and in Europe it is restricted to Malta and Spain. It is protected by the Environmental Protection Act and the Bern Convention.

Sustainable Mobility Project

The JC will commence the Sustainable Mobility Project selection process of all applicants. The current applicants who contacted the JC Environmental Committee, c/o Dr Ronald Cuschieri, will also be contacted individually by mail. All applicants will be requested to attend at the Conference Room next on Wednesday 13 February at 14:00 hrs.

Gozo Interschool Leagues

Gozo Interschool Leagues on 27 March 2019. If you are interested in joining any of the male and female football teams, basketball, volleyball or table tennis team, please send an e-mail on roseann.dimech@um.edu.mt

InterACT for Inclusion Erasmus + Youth Exchange Project

A week of intercultural dialogue took place at Junior College between 28 January and 1 February. As part of the Erasmus+ Youth Exchange Project "InterACT for Inclusion", the College hosted youths from Belgium, Finland and Germany, who along with the Maltese group, took part in a week of activities focused on active-lifestyle, outdoor sports, inclusion, tolerance and intercultural education.

Through various non-formal activities, and workshops dedicated to the values of tolerance, physical activity and alternative healthy eating, the participants worked in international teams, discussed, exercised, tried a healthier eating approach, and engaged in various social activities which allowed them to fully experience diversity.

The Project's next stage will focus on the German Youth Exchange, which will take place in Heidelberg in March 2019.
